Children are happier and do better when parents are positive about school and involved in their learning and development.

Schools and teachers do better too:

- Staff satisfaction and wellbeing improve
- Parents are more helpful and generous
- Parents are more approachable

MarvellousMe gives parents the valuable news they rarely get from their child, or typical school communications.

MarvellousMe focuses communication on learning and success:

- What did you learn today?
- What's the award for?
- Have you got any homework or messages?

Teachers post Activities to tell parents about
their child's learning.
Normally in a plenary.

- On PC, big screen or tablet. No phones, for safeguarding
- Notes are kept short for high impact
- Add photos, videos, voice clips and files
- Flag deadlines
- Parents can't message back

Teachers award Badges for rewards, values and skills, telling the child's parents at the same time.

- Add your designs and labels
- Keep things fair with counters and scorecards
- Print certificates

Teachers send general Messages and reminders, in a friendly way.

- Keep the content positive
- Try to send out fewer Messages compared to Activities and Badges – it's all about having a positive impact and emotionally engaging the parents.
- Add attachments
- Flag deadlines

Parents get exciting alerts, that are positive and personal.

- Parents love it on phone, tablet or PC
- Free and simple to setup and use
- Ideal for all family members and separated parents

Families reflect on and reinforce their child's learning and success.

- Parents can Hi5 to say 'Thank You' and 'Well Done'
